

Gaborone Sir Seretse Khama Airport Reviews

Sir Seretse Khama International Airport (IATA: GBE, ICAO: FBSK), located 15 kilometres (9 mi) north of Gaborone, is the main international airport of the capital city of Botswana. The airport is named for Sir Seretse Khama, the first president of Botswana. It was opened in 1984 and offers large capacity to handle regional and international traffic and has the largest passenger movement in the country.

The government of Botswana has started a $61 million expansion plan to further develop the airport to accommodate increased traffic and larger planes.

Gaborone Sir Seretse Khama Airport airlines and destinations are Air Botswana - Cape Town, Francistown, Harare, Johannesburg-Lanseria, Johannesburg-OR Tambo, Kasane, Lusaka, Maun, Nairobi-Jomo Kenyatta, Victoria Falls, Airlink - Johannesburg-OR Tambo (begins 20 January 2014), Kenya Airways - Nairobi-Jomo Kenyatta, South African Express Airways - Johannesburg-OR Tambo, and TAAG Angola Airlines - Luanda.
